CRAIG HOLDING NEGOTIATIONS

Cause of Sinn Fein Silence
Over Peace Due to Conference

DENIAL IS MADE

Art O'Brien Declares Matters Are Progressing Satisfactorily.

Dublin, Aug. 3.—It was learned on the best of authority today that the cause of the Sinn Fein's silence regarding the Irish peace negotiations is the fact that negotiations are proceeding between Eamonn DeValera and Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster. It is said that DeValera has been sounding Sir James Craig since last Friday upon the reservations and guarantees which the Ulster Unionists desire. Although DeValera and the Ulster Premier have not met in person their negotiations are said to be proceeding by means of couriers. The Irish people not knowing the reason for the delay and the absence of official statement, are becoming impatient and pessimistic predictions have been made in some quarters.

The responsible leaders of the Sinn Fein refuse to discuss the possible outcome of the conversations between southern and northern Ireland but it is understood they have reached or are reaching a satisfactory basis.

Makes Denial
London, August 3.—Art O'Brien, head of the Irish Self-Determination League and so-called "Sinn ambassador in London," who returned from Dublin today denied that the Sinn Fein is in communication with the Ulster Unionists at Belfast.

"Peace matters are progressing satisfactorily at Dublin," said O'Brien. The parliamentary correspondent of the London Times in discussing the Irish peace situation said: "It is wrong to assume that nothing is happening in the Irish negotiations because no announcement has been made. There is every reason to believe that the Sinn Fein is in direct communication with Belfast and is trying to reach an agreement with the northern Unionists. Obviously this is a question of great difficulty, requiring delicate handling and much time."

ALLEGED MURDERER
OF STEUBENVILLE
MAN IS CAPTURED

Denies All Knowledge of Crime After Arrest in Cleveland

Steubenville, Ohio, August 3.—Howard Mitchell, 25, alias Howard Carmichael, alleged murderer of Harry Cumins, local auto dealer on July 23, has been captured in Cleveland and is lodged in the Lisbon, Ohio county jail was received here this morning.

East Liverpool, Ohio, August 3.—The opinion that W. J. Waters, father of Rosalie Waters, who married Howard Mitchell, alias Harry Carmichael, local auto dealer, played an important role in the capture of the suspect at Cleveland, last night, was advanced here today.

Mitchell, a former East Liverpool barber, was accompanied by the East Liverpool girl to whom he was wed on July 11, when Scott Rowan, a Steubenville justice of the peace, brought him to the Columbiana county jail at Lisbon shortly before last midnight.

W. J. Waters, his father in law, when informed by newspaper men of the arrest, said: "The boy is innocent, time will prove it."

The prisoner made an emphatic denial of any knowledge of the Steubenville murder.

"I was working in Cleveland; I was not in Steubenville," he told sheriff Gomer Lewis at Lisbon.

Whether the prisoner will be taken to Steubenville today is problematical. His relatives expressed the hope that he would be detained here until the intense feeling aroused by Jefferson county crime had subsided. They fear mob violence.

THREE ARE KILLED IN SILK PLANT

Paterson, New Jersey, August 3.—Three men were killed and two others badly injured when a whirling steel basket used in drying silk tongs broke from its fixture at the Standard Dyeing Company's plant here early today and smashed into a group of workmen.

The whirling basket crushed the workmen like flies and the three who were killed were not immediately identified.

TURKEYS JOAN OF ARC IN POLITICS

Halide Edith Hanoun, former Secretary of Public Education in the Turkish Nationalist Government and the leader of the feminist movement in Turkey, is being mentioned in cable dispatches as being likely to be appointed the first woman Ambassador to the United States. She is now the Manager-in-Chief of the Turkish Red Crescent (similar to our Red Cross) and is organizing a Turkish Woman Battalion to aid Mustafa Kamel Pasha's army to fight the Greeks. The photo shows Halide Hanoun going out for a ride, after a day's hard work. Note that she is riding astride. Quite at variance with the popular conception of the Turkish woman.

Ohio Pays Tribute To Its Soldier Dead Wednesday

Funeral Services Conducted in Columbus Over Body Of Soldier Who Died While Attempting to Rescue
Wounded Comrade During War.

Columbus, Ohio, August 3.—Citizens throughout Ohio today paid tribute to the State's brave soldiers who died as a result of action in the recent world war. Bared heads marked the silent tribute which lasted five minutes.

This appreciation of the invaluable services of the soldier dead was manifested during the funeral services held here this afternoon over the body of a Columbus soldier, Private Frederick S. Duncan, Company I, 166th Infantry, who gave up his life in "No man's land," while trying to rescue a wounded comrade.

After resting in state in the State House rotunda since yesterday forenoon, Duncan's body was removed shortly after noon to the memorial hall where funeral services were held preparatory to burial in Green Lawn cemetery here.

Addresses were delivered by former Governor James Campbell, and former common pleas judge David Pugh, Columbus. Rev. B. F. Brundage, Franklin Post chaplain, officiated.

Major General George W. Read, commanding general of the Fifth United States Army Corps area, accompanied by five members of his staff and escorted by the military committee of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, visited the State House rotunda today, where, baring their heads beside private Duncan's casket, they paid tribute to Ohio's heroes.

Uniformed veterans of the world war and many Columbus citizens marched in the parade which marked the removal of private Duncan's body to memorial hall.

PRESIDENT SEEKS RELAXATION FROM CARES OF OFFICE

Harding Completely Shut Off From Communication With World

Lancaster, New Hampshire August 3.—In the wooded stillness of the White Mountains, President Harding almost completely cut off from communication with the outside world, today was seeking complete relaxation.

Mount Prospect, the temporary summer White House, is built at the top of one of the smaller mountains, surveying the Franconia and Presidential ranges of the White Mountains. From his mountain retreat, the president has been completely cut off from the public thoroughfare and the same distance from a telephone.

Unlike some of the President's other vacations, this is an outing de luxe. Although the gate to the week's estate, which is locked by the way, is hardly more than the ordinary gate of a prosperous farmer and is adorned by the usual tin mailbox with the name "John W. Weeks" painted upon it the entrance to the estate is belying.

The remainder of the domain is the very evident property of a wealthy man from the $10,000 road leading to the home and the valuable blooded cattle grazing on the mountain side to the wonderful lodge which tops the mountain summit.

Amid such surroundings, the nation's chief executive seeks only rest and play. He is slightly tired from his long mountainous journey of yesterday and his late afternoon game of golf at Crawford notch.

The President was the most fortunate of the motoring party for he was the only one who was not forced to change cars because of breakdown in the long up-hill pull. One party of press association correspondents were forced to do a bit of mountain climbing when their car broke down and they trailed into Crawford notch in the rear of the President.

The President does not wish to lay down a hard fast program for each day. That would be too much like White House routine. He will rest, play golf or motor as the spirit moves him, but he expects to play golf some time during the day over the Mountain View course at Whitefield.

Mrs. Harding is resting and will remain most of the time at the lodge enjoying the cool, clear weather and the relaxation from the White House duties.

In the absence of Mrs. Weeks, who is in Europe, Mrs. John W. Davidge daughter of Secretary Weeks is acting as hostess to the presidential party, which includes Senator and Mrs. Frelinghuysen, Senator and Mrs. Phipps of Colorado, Senator Hale of Maine, Secretary Christian and some friends of Secretary Weeks.

ITALY MOURNS OVER DEATH OF
NOTED SINGER

Funeral of International Proportions Now Being Arranged.

KIDNEYS FAILED

Caruso Suffered Intensely During Last Few Hours of Life.

Naples, August 3.—All Italy today mourned for Enrico Caruso. Arrangements are being made for a funeral of international proportions. All the stores in Naples are closed. Crowds, bare-headed and reverent, passed before the Vesuvius hotel, where the great singer died yesterday morning.

The body will lie in state on the stage of the San Carlo theatre before interment.

The death room in the Vesuvius hotel was filled with floral tributes. Orders for flowers came from all parts of the world.

Caruso's will is said to dispose of 50,000,000 lire. It is learned that Caruso recently went on a pilgrimage to the shrine of the Madonna at Pompeii where he donated 2,000 lire as a thanksgiving offering for his recovery from illness.

About the same time King Victor Emmanuel sent an aide-de-camp to Caruso's villa to express his best wishes over the apparent recovery from illness.

It was not until after Caruso's death that the specialists who had been attending him announced that kidney disease was really the cause of death. The singer was in great pain during his last hours, but bore himself stoically. His sufferings were so intense that his wife and brother could not bear to remain in the sick chamber and left it at frequent intervals to compose themselves.

Signor De Luca, a close friend of Caruso who had spent nearly the whole of Monday night at the bedside, said he had never seen such agony as the singer endured.

Intimates of Caruso said that up to a week before his death the tenor was most optimistic over his recovery although at times he seemed to brood and it is believed now that he felt a presentiment of serious illness which he did not reveal even to members of his family.

Caruso was not a perfect medical patient. His doctor had put him on a diet but the singer continuously disregarded it and ate heavy dishes that were forbidden. Caruso was always a heavy eater and chafed under the restraints which the physician had imposed on him.

Caruso's last words were said to have been spoken to his son, Monday night the singer called his son to his bedside and said to him:

"My son, it is finished, I go."

The funeral service probably will be held in the church of St. Perdon and to Rome from all parts of Europe to attend. Among the eulogiums received were messages from King George of England and President Millerand of France.

A death mask has been made and will be sent to America.

SUSPEND RAILROAD
TARIFFS FOR TIME

Columbus, Aug. 3.—At the request of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, the State Utilities Commission has suspended, pending hearing scheduled to begin on September 20, the railroad tariffs, filed to become effective as of August first, increasing freight rates on hogs 1 to 2 cents per 100.

Farmers claim the prevailing freight rates are "ruinously high."

FIRST MATCH WILL BE PLAYED THURSDAY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 3.—The first match between the British Isles and Australasia in the Davis cup tennis contest will be played at the Allegheny Country Club tomorrow afternoon. Play will begin at 2 o'clock eastern standard time. Singles will open this three days contest. Announcement will be made tonight as to who will be the singles contenders. It is understood that Wessman or Lowe will play, against either Hawkes or Anderson for Australasia.

KNIGHT MENTIONED FOR GOVERNOR

Akron, Ohio, August 3.—That C. L. Knight, representative in Congress from the fourth district, is being urged to make the run for Governor of Ohio, was the information contained in telegrams from Columbus today. The name of James T. Begg also is mentioned as a possible candidate.

When Knight's attention was called to the Columbus report, he refused to comment.

LANDIS RULES EXONERATED BLACK

GOVERNOR WILL FACE ARREST ON ARRIVAL HOME

Open Clash Between Small and Officials Is Expected

MAINTAINS STAND

Chief Executive Still Declares He Is Immune
From Arrest

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 3.—An open clash between Governor Len Small of Illinois and the authorities of Sangamon county today awaited merely the arrival of the chief executive in Springfield.

With Sheriff Henry Meester determined to arrest the Governor on three warrants interest centered chiefly on the measures the Governor will use to prevent his "capture."

Although the Governor has not receded from his stand that he is "immune from arrest" it was learned that his attorneys had determined to drop the action for the present in case he was arrested.

The governor, it was stated authoritatively, is expected here within 24 hours. His legal batteries meanwhile were preparing for the preliminary skirmishes in court should the sheriff succeed in serving the warrants changing him with misuse of state interest funds. It was learned here the first court action would be the entering of a motion before Judge E. S. Smith for a change of venue. This apparently sounded a death knell to the principal action at first contemplated by his legal advisers as a means of testing the authority of the county officials.

In effect this would be tantamount to admitting that the governor is not immune from arrest. His adherents pointed out however, that the Governor might waive the question of immunity for the time being, but would make it one of his principal weapons at his ultimate trial.

DANCING TEACHERS TO RULE OUT MANY STEPS NOW POPULAR

Toddle and Catch-as-Catch-
Can Must Go Is Word

New York, August 3.—"It's not what you do with your feet that matters," said grand daddy Leads Kretlow today.

"It's what you don't do with them when the rest of you is going places," Grand daddy Lewis knows.

He is the patriarch of American dancing masters, in convention here to reduce some of the rough stuff of modern dancing to one half of one percent.

Some two hundred odd dancing teachers from all parts of the United States have gathered upon New York for their annual gathering shouting "reform," or at least enough reform so that any man who wants to keep abreast of the times and his best girl must get out and get himself some dancing lessons.

They're going to take away the toddle—the catch as catch can—is to be officially ruled out.

All those vulgar dances which anyone with two legs, or maybe a stout crutch, could do at sight, are to be banned and tabooed the coming winter.

There has been a slump in the dancing-teaching business, many delegates admitted today. The dances were getting so simple that people were drawn right up out of their seats by the wail of the saxophone and before they knew it were out in the middle of the floor, toddling away without taken any lessons at all.

SAY OFFERS OF AID
VEIL MORE TROUBLE

London, August 3.—Offers of assistance by America and England to starving Russia "Veils a desire for a counter revolution against the soviet government," according to an accusation made in official manifesto issued by the Third Internationals and printed today in the Daily Herald, organ of the British labor party.

ASK RESIGNATION.

Marion, O., Aug. 3.—Announcement of the resignation by request on the grounds of inefficiency of deputy Sheriff Scott D. Belt, former Republican constable for Marion township, occasioned wide-spread surprise in local circles today. Belt, in an open letter to Sheriff Frank A. Washburn, denied the charge of inefficiency. He is a cripple.

STORMY DEBATE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS
IS NOW EXPECTED

British Will Wrangle Over Navy Estimates—Asquith Leads

London, Aug. 3.—Stormy debate was expected in the House of Commons this afternoon over the navy estimates. Former Premier Asquith, now leader of the opposition in Commons, has given notice that he would speak against the policy of the government.

Mr. Asquith believes that the forthcoming disarmament conference at Washington justifies the British admiral in slowing down its construction of warships. He declared that no arrangements should be made for the construction of additional dreadnaughts for at least a few months, "unless it could be seen how the disarmament movement was going to work out."

Belief prevailed that the debate would elicit from the government its real attitude towards disarmament so that the nation would know what policy the British delegates are going to pursue when the conference opens. In this connection it was pointed out that Premier Lloyd George has already notified the House of Commons that Great Britain will not discontinue the construction of capital ships regardless of the disarmament conference. The premier speaking for the admiralty, had said that the British navy would continue to replace her worn out capital ships because the life of the nation depended upon her sea strength.

REVOLUTION BREAKS OUT AT LISBON

London, Aug. 3.—A rumor is circulated at Vigo, on the Spanish-Portuguese frontier, that a revolution has broken out at Lisbon, said a Reuter dispatch from Madrid today.

The Portuguese army was reported to have occupied strategic points of the capital.

Messages from Lisbon prior to the report of the uprising, said that extensive precautions were being taken to cope with an out-break.

THREE HELD FOR GUNMAN'S DEATH

Welch, W. Va., August 3.—Three men, C. E. Lively, George Pence and William Staters were held in $10,000 bail each in connection with the killing of Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers at Welch yesterday. The men appeared in criminal court, waived examination and requested bail. The judge, James F. Strother, fixed the amount at $10,000, which was furnished.

There will be no special grand jury called to investigate the shooting and the case therefore, will go over until the next regular term of court, Oct. 3.

The bodies of Hatfield and Chambers were taken from an undertaking parlor here to Matewan late last night.

Guilty."

LANDIS SPEAKS

Status of Players Under
Baseball Law Is Now Determined.

Chicago, August 3.—The Black Sox, despite their acquittal of charge of conspiracy to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati, will never play in organized ball again.

Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball made this emphatic, clearly in a statement issued today. He declared that no players who associate with a "bunch of crooked gamblers" are wanted in the national pastime.

"Regardless of the verdict of the jurors," Judge Landis said, "no player that 'throws' a ball game; no player that undertakes or promises to throw a ball game; no player that sits in conference with a bunch of crooked players and gamblers where the ways and means of throwing games are planned and discussed and does not promptly tell his club about it will ever play professional baseball."

"Of course I don't know that any of these men will apply for re-instatement but if they do, the above at least are a few of the rules that will be enforced."

"Just keep in mind that regardless of the verdict of juries baseball is entirely competent to protect itself against crooks both inside and outside the game."

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The baseball future of a quarter of a million dollars worth of players rests today in the hands of Judge K. M. Landis.

A jury in superior court here has said that the "Black Sox" committed no crime in connection with the alleged conspiracy to "throw" the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati. Players and gamblers accused in the scandal that turned the baseball world topsy turvy a year ago, have been exonerated. The law has no further terrors for them.

Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson, Claude Williams, "Buck" Weaver, "Happy" Felsch, "Chick" Gandil and "Swede" Risberg, however, still must face the bony, glaring stare and the piercing eye of Judge Landis, the big sheik of the baseball tribe.

The verdict of the jury that ended the famous scandal trial came just before midnight. The jurors had deliberated four hours and had taken only one ballot. It was announced. The clerk of the court read one by one the names of the defendants and the decision of the jury that they were innocent. Besides the ball players David Zerkow, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Carl Zarek, of St. Louis alleged "gamblers and fixers" of the series were exonerated.

Demonstrations of joy followed the verdict. The ball players pounded each other on the back and sought to shake hands with the jurors. A crowd of 500 men that packed the court-room stamped and cheered despite the warning of Judge Hugo M. Friend that no demonstration would be permitted.

Final action in the case of the

GERMANY APPEALS FOR FAIR PLAY

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Germany is appealing to both the United States and Great Britain for fair play in the Upper Silesian decision, it was revealed today following Chancellor Wirth's speech before the Bremen Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon. The speech had been awaited with great eagerness because it had been expected that the Chancellor would pledge the resignation of his cabinet unless Germany got a satisfactory decision regarding her claims in Upper Silesia. The Chancellor made no mention of resignation.

The Chancellor declared that Germany was hopeful that America and Great Britain would answer Germany's appeal for a square deal at the hands of France and Poland.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR
OPENS WEDNESDAY

Marion, Ohio, August.—The Richmond tri-county fair opened at Richmond today under the most favorable conditions in many years, it was said today. The track is fast and the indications are that the fair this year will eclipse that of former years, according to the fair officials. During the war the Richmond fair was abandoned.

BIDS FOR GREENE COUNTY ROAD ARE REJECTED BY STATE

County Commissioners, Wednesday, had no explanation for the action of the State Highway Department in rejecting all bids for the construction of the proposed Jamestown-Cedarville road.

A letter from Leon C. Herriek, Director of Highways was received by the Commissioners, Wednesday morning, announcing that all bids for that work were rejected by the department. No reason for the action was contained in the letter.

The work was among six other projects help up by the department last week, when 43 projects were let to contractors following a discussion held by Governor Davis Cabinet. Bids on three of the projects held up were finally accepted and three rejected the local work being among the three on which bids were rejected.

The contracts rejected were in Greene, Knox and Monroe counties while those awarded are in Holmes, Seneca and Ottawa counties.

The proposed Jamestown-Cedarville road is about seven miles in length. The county Commissioners asked state aid on the project some time ago, and issued bonds to defray the county's expense in building the pike. As a result the county has the money in the bank ready to pay its share of the cost, as the State would not take action until the county's share was on hand. The county is now paying interest on the bonds, and to appearances the money will lay idle for a time at least, pending further action of the State Department the matter now being out of the hands of the commissioners.

STRUCK IN EYE BY BATTED BALL WHILE PITCHING FOR LOCALS

Struck by a batted ball during a baseball game at Midland City, Sunday, Curtis Free, well-known local pitcher is suffering from a badly injured left eye.

Free was pitching for the American Legion baseball team at Midland City, during the first inning of the game the Midland City team piled up five runs, and it was during this inning that the pitcher received his injury. His delivery carried him off his feet, so that he was unable to stop the batted ball. The ball struck him under the left eye, causing the severe gash that required the services of a physician, and severely bruised the eye.

OPENING DAY AT FAIR QUIET ONE; RACES WEDNESDAY

As usual, but few people attended the opening day of the Greene County Fair, Tuesday.

Although known as free day, the first day is never a popular one at the Fair, and the inclement weather, Tuesday, aided in keeping many people away from the grounds.

With the opening race program, Wednesday afternoon it is expected a large crowd will turn out. Tuesday, many shows and attractions on the midway did not open for business owing to the small crowd, but Wednesday the midway will be in full operation with its side shows, riding devices, fortune tellers and its crowds of sightseers.

Wednesday afternoon's race program consists of a 2:25 pace, a 2:22 trot and a 2:09 pace. Thursday, the speed attractions will be a 2:18 trot, a 2:16 pace and a 2:14 trot.

Xenia's streets were crowded, Wednesday morning with taxis and there were many visitors in the city to attend the Fair. The popular price for taxi service to the grounds is 15c this year, taxi drivers not yet having gotten back to the "fitney" stage.

The Liberty band, which will furnish the music in the quarter stretch, Wednesday afternoon, gave a concert in front of the court house, Wednesday morning.

INFANT DIES THREE DAYS AFTER BIRTH

Charles Ensley Miller, the three-day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, of West of the city, died at the home of Mrs. Miller's father, James Shaw, who resides five miles west of Xenia, off the Bellbrook pike, Tuesday noon. The child was born on Saturday, and had been frail from birth. Funeral services were held, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Shaw home, and burial was made at Spring Valley.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

There is altogether too much stress placed upon education as an achievement. I think of it rather as a piece of usefulness.

Abraham Lincoln was a wonderfully well educated man. Some one has said that no man is truly educated until he has under proper control every voluntary faculty of his make-up. A man of strong self-control is always an educated man. He feels his power.

A vast knowledge of literature and events is not vital to a thoroughly educated man.

Too much book-learning clogs a man. It makes him slow and uneventful. Big achievers always think and act in simple terms. The great reformers of history have almost always been those who went before the people with few pleas.

The man who is expert in reading folks hearts goes further in accomplishment than any high-degreed student.

The most useful university of learning in the world is where they teach consideration.

When Cain asked whether or not he was his brother's keeper, he put a question that has rumbled down the ages. It is as fresh today as then.

To be educated is to know how to lend a hand—as well as to be kind and just and strong in the face of failure and alongside success. One does not begin to live until he has experienced helping others to live.

I know of a chap who left a fine position in business to take up special work at a college. And when he told them that he only wanted to select such studies as he felt would best equip him for business and that he intended studying but two years, he was advised that he could not enter for a "degree." The young man replied that he was after useful knowledge, not degrees. I will bank on this spirit any day in the week.

Education is the art of knowing how and what to do when the proper time comes.

Today I talked with a brilliant writer. He told me that he had been living on next to nothing for weeks while he worked on a play which he hoped would be the greatest thing he had ever done. I offered my little help, for I have always believed in him. But he refused it, saying: "No I determined to put this through at all costs—to drive myself to any privation that it might be achieved."

When I was a boy in high school, I went to hear a very inspiring lecturer, Prof. John B. De Motte. One sentence took a seat in my memory and has remained there. Here it is: Success means sacrifice.

As the soldier nears the decisive battle, he throws away every part of his equipment that he can. He strips for finalities.

He who wins, squeezes every ounce of pessimism from his make-up.

Also if you would make good, you cannot allow yourself to be a dependant in any sense of the word. Winners all too often have to walk alone a great part of their route to victory.

And most warriors are battle scared! With that mystical, unafraid, deep-set look in their eyes.

You can make good—if you decide to pay.

PLEASANTLY REMINDED OF BIRTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs. John W. Fudge was pleasantly surprised by a company of her friends who called at her home on East Market Street, Tuesday evening to remind her of her birthday, and who enjoyed a delightfully informal evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wright of Detroit, Michigan, are the guests of Mr. Wright's parents, Mr. and P. A. Wright of West Third Street. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have just returned from a motor trip from Detroit to Los Angeles, through Mexico, and a coast trip to Portland, Oregon, and return over the northern route.

The Misses Clara and Mildred Wright, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wright, arrived in this city, Tuesday morning, after a fifteen months' stay in California. Miss Mildred received her M. A. degree in English at the University of California. Their return trip was made over the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

INJURED MAN IS HOLDING HIS OWN AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

D. Emerson Beeghly, Jr. 11, Bond Street, Dayton, in which the airplane in which he was a passenger crashed to the ground on Orchard street, Monday evening, remains in an unchanged condition according to attaches of McClellan Hospital where he is a patient.

It is believed that the fact that the accident victim is holding his own, is a sign in his favor. His condition, Wednesday afternoon, however, was practically unchanged from Tuesday, when he successfully rallied from an operation designed to correct the fracture of the forehead bone, and to relieve pressure on the brain.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beeghly Sr., of Dayton, who have been in Jacksonville, Fla., are expected to arrive in this city, Wednesday evening to be with their son, having been immediately notified of the accident.

Mr. Beeghly's wife, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Beeghly, also of Dayton are still in this city. D. E. Beeghly Sr., is a prominent Dayton insurance man.

Lawrence Denison, of Blanchard, Michigan, pilot of the ill-fated plane, recovered sufficiently from the effects of his injuries, consisting of a rash over his left eye and shock and bruises to leave for Wabash, Ind., Tuesday night, accompanied by his mechanic, Charles Fountain, of Wabash. Denison was able to get out of his bed at the Regil Hotel, Tuesday afternoon, and walked about the city.

The pilot is through with the flying game, according to his own statement. "I promised my mother that if I ever was in an accident and escaped alive that I would quit flying," he said, "so I am through. This was my first accident." Charlie Fountain, mechanic, endorsed Denison's statements. "I am through with the flying end of the game," said Fountain. "I won't give aviation up entirely, but after this I work in the hangars. No more road jobs for me." Fountain had been in two accidents this year, escaping injury both times.

The accident was caused by Beeghly holding on to "stick" or control lever so that the pilot was unable to operate. was the statement Denison made to several Xenia people, Tuesday day. He is alleged to have said that he did not care to give it publicity so did not tell reporters who questioned him what caused him to lose control of the plane. He said that in instructing army flyers, in case they should hold the control lever, the instructor usually "put them out" by striking them over the head with something, in order to release their grasp on the controls and prevent a fall. Just how much faith can be placed in Denison's statements is not known, however, as the blow on the head seemed to cause him extreme pain and nervousness, and attaches of the Regil Hotel believed that his mind was affected from his actions after arising, Tuesday afternoon.

The plane was torn down Tuesday and stored in the Fred Baldner garage. It will be shipped to the Wabash Aviation training and transportation Company.

RALPH T. HARNES

Ralph T., son of Elias and Mary B. Harnes, was born in Silvercreek township April 13, 1893, and died in a military hospital in France Feb. 3, 1919, aged 25 years, 9 months and 20 days. He enlisted in his country's service May 14, 1918. After spending some time in Ft. Thomas he was transferred to Hoboken, New Jersey, thence to France. He was a member of the Twenty-first Machine Gun Unit Co. B of the Seventy-third Division. He saw action in several conflicts, one in which he was wounded and confined two and a half months in Base Hospital No. 55. Before his company was permitted to sail for America he contracted pneumonia which caused his death.

Besides his parents he leaves to mourn their loss three brothers, Volney and Ora of Xenia, and Chester, of Union County, Indiana.

He was converted under the preaching of Dr. Beiderwolf, after which he united with the Baptist church and was immersed by the pastor, Dr. Reed.

It can be truthfully said of Ralph that he wore a pleasing countenance and a happy smile, which betokened a heart filled with friendship. No matter when or where he was met these beautiful traits of character never failed him.

We trust that while he gave his life and service to his country that he committed his way unto the Lord. He rests from the conflicts of war, his battles are fought, his victory is won. Peace reigneth. May his many relatives and friends, and comrades put their trust in the God of Peace and know the great peace that passeth all understanding.

Text Prov. 4:26

STORMY SESSION OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF HOSPITAL HELD

A stormy session of the board of trustees of the district tuberculosis hospital, near Springfield, greeted the recommendation of Miss Anna Shephard, superintendent of the institution, that George Louderback, farmer, at the hospital, be dismissed.

Despite the protests of J. P. Neer, Champaign county member of the board, who said the board should give Louderback time to obtain new employment the board took action on the recommendation dismissing Louderback immediately. The action was taken behind closed doors to Louderback and his backers, Mr. J. Donnelly and Corb Martin, former hired hand at the hospital, who stood without and threatened annihilation of the board through the window, it is alleged.

Action taken at the last regular meeting giving Miss Shephard complete charge of hiring and firing of employees of the institution, made it possible for the superintendent to recommend the dismissal of Louderback, whom she charged with being an inefficient farmer, read to take over, constantly annoying her and engaging in tirades against her and her management of the institution. She told the board that Louderback planted his vegetables at the wrong season and all at once, so that there were two many vegetables at one time and not enough at another, and that he could not make keeping a dairy herd pay so that the cows had to be sold and the 14 gallons of milk used daily purchased from another source. It was said that Louderback had been warned to take orders from Miss Shephard who was employed at the hospital during the regime of Dr. E. Richardson in 1917 under the name of Miss Slumberger, but who changed her name to Miss Shephard during the war.

Following the dismissal of Louderback, the farmer and his cohorts were admitted to the meeting, and immediately began a tirade against the board for the action. Donnelly hurled questions at Miss Shephard until he was stopped by Dr. R. H. Grube, Greene county representative, who told him to present his charges in writing at the next board meeting.

"They don't want to hear our side of it," said Donnelly.

"No, we don't," said Dr. Grube. "You'll have to present your charges in writing. We don't want any orations."

"That's all right, Donnelly, go right ahead. Don't pay attention to 'em. Go ahead and talk," roared Louderback. "We'll make 'em listen to us." Donnelly attempted to resume but was interrupted by Miss Shephard.

"You'll hear charges against her after I'm gone," said Louderback. "You've got to tell what charges she made against me."

"We don't have to tell you a thing," said Dr. Grube.

"Yes you do," said Louderback. "George, we don't need to hear from you," said Dr. Grube.

"Yes you do. We're going to make you. Go ahead Donnelly," was the reply.

At one time the meeting looked as if it was about to end in a fist fight when in a full board adjourned. A general statement prepared by Miss Shephard show receipts last year were $41,565.86; operating costs $29,263; equipment and improvement charges, $10,120.78; preceding year's bills, $14,582.37. There are now 40 patients in the hospital, which is partially supported by a 52-acre farm which cost $7,979.8 and the returns from which have been inadequate, according to Miss Shephard.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our sad bereavement also Rev. D. D. Doods for his consoling words and Mr. Ralph Neeld and all who sent floral tribute. Also we thank the Order of Redmen and Pocahontas Wife, Mother, Father, Brother and Sisters.

WILL CLOSE AT NOON

Following the custom of several years the offices of The Gazette and The Republican will be closed at noon Thursday, on account of the Greene County Fair. The Gazette will be published at noon.

LOCAL AUTO CLUB HAS BUSY WEEK ANSWERING QUERIES

During the first three days of this week 42 people have called at the headquarters of the Greene County Automobile Club in the Chamber of Commerce to learn details of the anti-anti-thet law, according to J. J. Slackford, secretary.

Many automobiles have been registered under the new law, which requires that owners driving used cars should register their machines before August 17, and that all machines sold after that date will require a bill of sale.

The Automobile Club this week has routed motorists on pleasure and business trips to many points of the compass. Motorists have been routed by Secretary Slackford as far east as Washington, D. C. as far west as Chicago, as far south as Louisville and north to Buffalo and all points along the Great Lakes.

Mr. Slackford is also ready to supply a list of all types of headlight lenses which have been required by the new anti-glare law, and motorists are invited to become informed on the requirements of the law. Mr. Slackford also is calling attention to the fact that the American Automobile Association, of which the local club is a subsidiary, is making a strenuous fight at Washington against the proposed increase in taxes on automobiles.

TREASURY WILL NOT HAVE A SURPLUS

Washington, Aug. 3. — Taxes will not be levied sufficiently to provide a treasury surplus, Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee declared today.

"I would prefer that there should be a treasury deficit during the present fiscal year," said Fordney.

"This would prevent demands for more funds from the departments and hold Congress down with appropriations. The deficit could be met by temporary loans and could be taken care of next year out of the receipts." This attitude of members of the Ways and Means Committee spells rejection of tax program submitted by Secretary Mellon which seek revenues to meet his estimate of treasury demands for the present fiscal year of $4,675,000,000. He suggested taxes of $10 on automobiles, two cents on bank checks; increases from 2 to 3 cents on first class postage and increased taxes on tobacco, cigars and cigarettes.

The suggested bank check tax and increased postage has aroused immediate antagonism in the house. Chairman Fordney said he did not think there was any probability of levying the taxes suggested by Secretary Mellon, unless it was the automobile. If this tax is decided on by the committee it will be a graduated tax on horse-power and accompanied by a federal license obviating the necessity for state licenses outside of the state of registration.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our bereavement, also Rev. Pimm for his consoling words. We especially wish to thank Joseph Foody Post No. 95, and the Order of Odd Fellows, also all those who sent floral tributes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Harnes.

RECEIVES FRACTURED ARM IN COLLISION OF AUTOS TUESDAY

Mrs. B. L. Hughey, Home Ave., sustained fractures of both bones in her left arm just above the wrist and severe cuts on the face and scalp, when the machine in which she was riding with Mr. Hughey, was struck by an automobile driven by a man named Durbin, of Cincinnati, on the Dixie Highway, two miles south of Middletown at nine o'clock, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Hughey was taken to the city hospital in Middletown by people who came to the assistance of the accident victims. Wednesday morning, Mr. Hughey, who returned home in the meantime, returned to Middletown and brought Mrs. Hughey to this city Wednesday afternoon. Her injuries are painful but not serious, it is thought.

No explanation for the accident could be given at Middletown. Both machines were badly wrecked in the collision and were taken to a Middletown garage. Although Mr. Hughey was bruised and shaken some in the accident, Mrs. Hughey was the worst victim of the collision, occupants of the other machine not being injured.

GIRLS RETURNED TO HOMES HERE

Hazel Spurlock, 15, of 38 California street, and May Hedges, 14, R. R. 6, on the Wilmington pike, were taken off the Springfield & Xenia traction car which arrived in Springfield at midnight, Tuesday night, by Patrolman John Donnelly of the Springfield police department and lodged in the Clark County Detention Home.

The girls told Donnelly they were running away from home. Both girls were well dressed but did not tell police where they were planning to go. They were held pending word from Xenia relatives and Wednesday were returned to this city by relatives.

The girls boarded the last car to Springfield at Old Town, and were laughing and talking. They asked the conductor what town it was at which they had boarded the car.

DOWNNEY AND WILSON FIGHT RULED OUT

New York, August 3.—Bryan Downey and Johnny Wilson will not be permitted to fight in New York state the boxing commission announced here today, until they have decided the contest between them in an equitable and satisfactory manner. The commission's statement added further, "and until the commission in Cleveland allows them to renew boxing there." It was pointed out that New York commission evidently is under impression that Wilson and Downey are under suspension in Cleveland when, as a matter of fact, they are not.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT CHARGE IS FILED; MAN RECEIVES FINE

Joseph Wright, alias J. G. Ventuella, 35, colored, was fined $10 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Wednesday morning on a disorderly conduct charge, growing out of an incident following the airplane accident, Monday evening. Roy Mendenhall, city fireman, who filed the charges against Wright alleged that when firemen were protecting the wrecked plane from being demolished by sightseers that Wright became disorderly and said that the firemen had no authority. Wright, it is alleged, took a helmet and pair of goggles, which were recovered at his home. Wright declared that he had no intention of keeping the articles. Mendenhall filed the charges against Wright and Patrolman Ed Wilkins made his arrest.

THE MAN WHO DID'NT BEGIN IN TIME

He is one of many men who are out of work. He has a family of children and is in such straitened circumstances that he tried to borrow money on the only thing he owned—his cemetery lot. He had earned big wages when labor was scarce, but he never saved a cent.

It's an obvious fact that many people overlook the value of the saving habit until their money is spent. More people learn thrift in hard times than when money is plentiful.

It is not too late for anyone to begin to save money regularly, and deposit it in a Savings Account in The Commercial & Savings Bank where interest is paid and compounded twice a year. Don't put it off any longer, but open an account this week.

GET ON Speaking Terms With Health

Many are not on speaking terms with health because they refuse to recognize the fact that the first law of health is a spine in line. All energy comes from spinal nerves which emit from between spinal joints. There are twenty-four of these spinal joints that are movable and subject to the disorder that comes from jars or strains due to accident, hard work or bad habits of sitting, standing or walking.

The chiropractor detects the deviations of spinal joints and restores them to correct mechanical alignment. The process of restoration is sometimes slow, sometimes it is comparatively quick. But the invariable effect of restored alignment is that health comes back.

Chiropractic spinal adjustment free spinal nerves by restoring normal nerve openings and by this simple process chiropractors everywhere are correcting diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and genital organs.

"Oh, the old swimmin' hole! In the long, lazy days
When the hum-drum of school made so many runaways"
Ever fragrant memories are recalled by these tilting lines from James Whitcomb Riley's poem and when next week you see Charles Ray in the character of Ezra, the carefree barefoot boy in "The Old Swimmin' Hole," you will live again your childhood days. While Ray has made a reputation in many juvenile roles, he is at his very best in this idyll. The laughs chase the lumps up and down your throat as you watch his love affair with the school flirt, how she jilts him and how the everfaithful Esther fixes up so prettily that he succumbs to her charms. How he gets into a dozen scrapes and the amusing way he tumbles out of them are all depicted with a freshness and charm that captivate.

IT ISN'T EVERY DAY WE HAVE A BRITISH LORD'S VISIT SO HAVE TO MAKE THE MOST OF IT.

The list of guests at the McLean dinner in Washington was headed by Secretary Hughes, with whom Lord Northcliffe enjoyed a half-hour visit at the State Department Friday afternoon. They had met before, but the British journalist came away from "your Foreign Office," as he put it, like all who meet "the new Hughes," with conceptions of him they never cherished before. "What a fine, handsome, upstanding, dignified Prime Minister President Harding has," was Lord Northcliffe's spontaneous exclamation when he emerged from Mr. Hughes private office. "He will make a deep impression upon the world statesmen who sit around the Washington conference table."

Lord Northcliffe's second and last day in Washington largely was devoted to hobnobbing with fellow craftsmen. He devoted the morning to newspapers and newspaper correspondents, scrutinizing with trained eye how the great metropolitan journals of the country had "covered" the story of the day—his story—and answering reportorial questions without stint on late developments of it.

At 12:30 o'clock, Friday, the Overseas Writers, the new Washington organization of correspondents with foreign service records—twenty-six in number—entertained Lord Northcliffe and Mr. Stead at luncheon. It was the debut of the organization, which felt itself peculiarly favored in being able to entertain as its first guest the front-page figure of two hemispheres.

At 4 o'clock Friday Lord Northcliffe attended the bi-weekly newspaper conference with President Harding at the White House. He went in the capacity of a special correspondent of his own papers.

After the White House conference Lord Northcliffe drove to the Capitol to meet the correspondents attached to the Senate press gallery. There he was welcomed by Robert Barry, chairman of the Standing Committee, who introduced the British visitor.

Lord Northcliffe in reply said the men who report congressional proceedings in the United States capital had taught their British conferees one thing—the art of eliminating the uninteresting and concentrating on the vital.

The Senate had adjourned, but Lord Northcliffe was anxious to make one call while at the Capitol—on Senator Frank B. Brandegee, of Connecticut. He had promised Ambassador Harvey, he said, to "look up Brandegee in Washington." The Fleet-street magnate was anxious to tell Mr. Brandegee "what a fine Ambassador George Harvey is making."

After one day in the metropolis of Ontario Lord Northcliffe will proceed to Vancouver in a private car over the Canadian Pacific. He will have a day in the capital of British Columbia before embarking for Hawaii on August 6. Mr. Stead will travel with his chief to Canada, but return to the United States for the disarmament conference.

NEW HOME FOR RETIRED METHODIST MINISTERS IN FLORIDA.

An 87 room hotel accommodating 130 guests, has been purchased in Eustis, Florida, by the Retired Ministers' Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It is the "Grand View Hotel," built 18 years ago, with two additional buildings erected more recently. It is planned to develop the property as a Home for retired pastors and their families and such other people as may be admitted under the rules.

Eustis is located in the central part of Florida, on a chain of three lakes that have a shore line of more than seven hundred miles. It stands on the highest ridge of the State surrounded by beautiful orange groves. The city has for years been a popular resort of many Northern people during the winter season.

The plan of the association is to open the hotel about October 1, this year. The rates for room rent will be from three to four dollars per week, as a minimum, up to five to seven dollars per week. Cafeteria service is to be furnished. In all other ways the accommodations will be those usually found in a modern hotel. It will, of course be a Christian hotel: every effort will be made to provide clean and wholesome entertainment. The grounds are laid out providing for various games and sports. Boating, fishing, and bathing will be found on the lakes; in their season, there is good hunting for wild deer turkey and various other animals and birds.

The use of this hotel and its accommodations will not be limited to retired ministers, although it is primarily for them and their families. Under the articles of incorporation, and agreement with the local committee in Eustis, persons other than ministers will be permitted to stop at the hotel.

The citizens of Eustis, desirous to have the hotel occupied under such Christian auspices have contributed $20,000 in cash toward its purchase. The total cost will be $50,000.

Any person wishing information about entering the Home or about stopping there for a short time or any other information should communicate with the chairman of the Executive Committee, Newton E. Davis, 740 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois.

HAS HAD "FAR EASTERN" EXPERIENCE

Herbert Hoover, handy man of the Harding Administration will be a tower of strength in the impending negotiations and discussions pertinent to the Far Eastern conference. The Secretary of Commerce has the unusual record of having lived for a long time in both the Orient and the Occident. He was chief engineer of the Chinese Imperial Bureau of Mines in 1899, at the age of 25, and carried on extensive exploration in the interior of China. The Boxer rebellion of 1900 found him in the midst of his activities. His part in the defense of Tientsin is one of the most interesting chapters in his kaleidoscopic career. Secretary Denby is another member of the Cabinet with Far Eastern Experience. He went to China with his father, who was American Minister in Peking and from 1887 to 1897 he was in the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs Service.

WHEN IS A BARGAIN NOT A BARGAIN?

Stamp collecting and stamp swapping express a healthy boyhood instinct—trading. The "hoss tradin'" of the grown-up enriches many a page of American literature.

It's instinctive to trade—to find a bargain.

You'll find a lot of folks who went or were sent to Atlantic City for the benefit of the ocean breezes sitting in stuffy auction rooms along the Boardwalk hour after hour.

Why? For the hope of getting something worth more than it costs. Such bargains generally end in heartburn.

A bargain at the expense of the other fellow is nothing to brag about. It is noteworthy only because it is so rare. It is not the kind of trading that pays. A number of people think that the times we have been living through since the war have been driving too hard a bargain against life itself.

In general there are two types of business that were most affected by the recent slow-down. And these two types were largely responsible for most of the "distress," etc., you have heard. First, the business that lives by its wits, and tends to make its profit at the expense of its help to the public—relying on its lack of identity for safety; and second, the business that makes as good goods as those you know through advertising but which finds itself in distress in times when you only buy goods you are absolutely sure of—advertised goods.

The manufacturer and merchant whose goods are known to you through advertising, places most of his confidence in your good will.

He could perhaps get the same volume of business some other way but he has more faith in you than he has in anything else. If he had not spent years in patiently building your confidence he could have raised his prices without much worry during the last few years, but he never did it until he was obliged to in order to stay in business, and he never raised prices beyond the keeping-on point, because that would have been too foolish for words. It would have cost him more in your good will—which is a product of years—than it would have made him in profits, which are here today and gone to-morrow.

It isn't only that you should be sure goods are rightly manufactured. How does the maker feel about earning and keeping your good will?

As you read the advertisements in the great newspapers and magazines you can tell where the values are placed: Price and quality—price and quality, service, satisfaction, "our name on the goods means your money back if dissatisfied." There is no reason why you should defer buying what you need. There is ever reason why you may expect great value today from the known thing. These are days when friendship counts and when it pays to trust our friends. The men and women making and selling the products you know so well are your friends. They count on your buying what they make, so they can buy what you make—so that life may be fuller—so that a clean record of square dealing may continue to be regarded as the best policy as well as the best code.

"Hoss tradin'" is all right in books—that's the only place it ever works. Know the goods you buy—know the people of whom you buy, and you are on a sound basis with money back if not satisfied. That's fair. Who wants an unfair advantage?

Bargains in their true sense are always the interchange of goods and service on a 50-50 basis. No losses sought by the buyer at the expense of the seller, or vice versa.

That is what honest business calls normal conditions. Each has to do his part now to make them come true for the good of all.

COURT NEWS

Authority to sell lands and adjust liens is petitioned in the suit of Marcus Shoup, as assigned in trust for the benefit of the creditors of Howard Shane against Howard Shane, Veronica Shane, his wife and Bert Limes, filed with Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam, Tuesday.

The petition states Howard Shane made an assignment to the plaintiff July 30, 1921, and his assets include two lots in Silvercreek township, and additional lands, appraised at $3,600. One of the lots is encumbered with a mortgage held by Bert Limes for $650. The petition asks for right to sell, asking the court to consider the liens and the rights of the wife. Marcus Shoup is attorney.

Case is Dismissed.

The case of the Springfield Tea Company against Katie Snider was dismissed by Judge R. L. Gowdy in Common Pleas Court yesterday on motion of the defendant at the cost of the plaintiff because the plaintiff failed to file a petition as required by law.

Decision Favors Defendant.

The case of Melissa C. Harner against Mina Oglesbee, and others, decided some time ago, resulted in a finding for the defendant and an order that the petition be dismissed, the cost being adjudged against the plaintiff.

STREET PREACHER BRANDED AS FAKE

Washington C. H., Aug. 3.—One night this week many persons heard a street preacher as he berated the evil doer and urged better living upon his auditors, not forgetting to make a strong plea for funds for the "cause" and meeting with liberal response from many of those who heard him.

His name is said to be Mose Simpson, and according to Judge E. S. Osborn, of the Columbus Municipal Court, the man is an impostor and will be treated as such when he again comes to this city.

The fellow is said to have had two young girls with him as collectors, and they made the rounds soliciting funds for the "Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home."

Upon complaint of another street preacher and his wife that Simpson was a fraud, Chief of Police D. L. Moore wrote to the municipal court of Columbus and received the following reply:

"I fined Mose Simpson almost a year and a half ago. He is a real impostor. He headed an organization here and all collected in the name of Christ, paying him a certain percentage, he retaining all of what he collected. They had a real knife and fist fight at the mission over the proceeds. As near as we can figure out his returns averaged about $15 or $20 a day. I ordered him out of the city for good.

Respectfully,

John F. Seidel, Presiding Judge
This was endorsed by Judge S. D. Osborn.

RUNAWAY CAUGHT

THE HELPING HAND

Jim James was sick for many moons and had to soak his silver spoons, to purchase becwax pills; the wolf was neighing at his door, and he was weak and sick and sore, and shy of dollar bills. And so it filled my heart with glee to call at times and leave a V, to help old Jim along; this way of aiding luckless men appeals to me a lot, but then some fellows say it's wrong. The drivesmiths daily seek my door to ask for bones and then some more, to help some distant cause; the starving Bedouin's lost his flocks, the Eskimo is needing socks, and I am Santa Claus. And I confess with little shame, that I detest the "driving" game and hold it most unfair; and I'll discourage, while I live, the folks who tell me what to give, and how, and when and where. When there's another drive in town I sometimes turn the drivesmiths down, and knock their nerry games; for when I have some extra bucks I'd rather buy some bottled nux for chaps like old Jim James. I'd rather help the guys I know, and let the festive Eskimo be shy a Sunday hat; across the alley there is grief and I may give some small relief and I'd fain stick to that. The country's free and those who care to spread their largess everywhere have every human right; but old Jim James is pretty sick, and I'll take him an ice cream brick and codfish balls tonight.

BEAUTY CHATS

CORRECTING BADLY SHAPED EYEBROWS

Thick eyebrows are a sign of a strong character, but badly shaped eyebrows are not a sign of anything but a certain carelessness of personal appearance. You should keep your eyebrows well shaped. But do not take my advice too seriously and have your eyebrows clipped or professionally shaper. A great many beauty parlors make a specialty of shaping the eyebrows and charge 50c or 75c or even a dollar. It always seems to me a great waste of money because all they do is to shave the eyebrows and put a little white stuff over the shaved parts. In a few days all the shaved off hairs will be coming through as little dark stubs and the eyebrows will be much worse than they were before.

If you must have your eyebrows "shaped" you can learn to do it at home and save that money, but I think you would be very foolish to experiment with it at all. It is much easier to pull out all the unwanted hairs with a pair of tweezers and then to touch the places with peroxide for several days or several weeks and when they come in they will be light and invisible if you have faithfully used the peroxide.

When they grow long enough to show you can pull them out again, I do not think it has been proved, but it has been stated on rather good authority that if you persistently pull these hairs they will disappear. The reason they come back usually is that a new hair is forming in the follicle from which the old one was pulled.

Another way to train the eyebrows is to rub them at night with muclage, shaping them as the muclage dries.

R. W.—Bay rum is mildly astringent and it is also cleansing to the skin.

Helena.—The preparations you mention are proprietary articles, and I do not know what they contain.

Barbara S.—You are an Irish type.

Mary T.—Send a stamped addressed envelope for the hair tonic formula. Whiteheads can be treated with peroxide of hydrogen and each head should be pricked with a sterilized needle, after which apply the peroxide again.

Waiting.—You can remove the paper from the table by rubbing the top with a mixture of powdered pumice and oil. This will remove all stains and, at the same time, gives a satiny finish to the furniture.

Contie.—Massage your neck and arms each night, using cocoa butter and keep on with the exercises. To keep your hands white, use a mixture daily, which is made from equal parts of glycerine and rose water.

Dempsey says, "I feel torn through greater heart power, endurance, fighting skill and strategy. I took Carpenter's hardest blows on my chin and while they knocked me back, they did not daze me in the least. I am sure Carpenter has not the endurance to stand the hard blows that I can stand, neither has he the strength to deliver them. I understand his methods of training are entirely different from mine. While I believe in scientific boxing still I never lose sight of the important fact that other things being equal it is the man who has the greatest strength, power and endurance that is going to win. In building up these three most important things I have been killing your blood with my great fight with Willard I used Nuxated Iron as part of my training, and I have seen great benefit to me that after a while I used it, where I had before I quite up to the mark, to help restore my strength, energy and vigor; and when I came to training my fight with Carpenter, the Nuxated Iron was of great help. I again took the Nuxated Iron and

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's Manager, says: "Knowing what Nuxated Iron had done for Dempsey in the Willard fight I strongly insisted that he use this wonderful strength and blood builder as a part of his training for the fight with Carpenter, and I believe it was an important factor in building up Dempsey's superhuman strength, power and endurance which were such important factors in winning his easy victory."

DINNER STORIES

Becoming unmanageable from some unknown cause, a small car turned the corner, ran westward onto a viaduct some distance, then swerved suddenly and plunged over into the street below. As the vehicle took the leap its driver jumped or was flung out, but managed to catch on the broken railing. He hung for a horrid moment on the brink of death and then scrambled back to safety.

"Merciful powers!" ejaculated a pedestrian below, "What a narrow escape!" "Shucks!" returned the gent from Jimson Junction who was on hand, "That wasn't no escape; it was just a trick of some kind. They can't fool me!"

Ragged little Tom Brown had been committed to juvenile hall, where he was immediately given a bath, clean clothes, had his hair washed and cut short. His old clothes were burned. As his adenoids interfered seriously with his breathing, they were removed. When he had recovered from the operation the matron noticed that there was an unusually big and disgusting wart at the end of his thumb.

"Tom," she said, "I'll see that this wart is removed today." A look of absolute disgust spread over Tom's face. "Gosh!" he exclaimed, "Don't you let a fellow keep anything here?"

"The doctor says father must be kept quiet and avoid all excitement." "Oh! Then I guess I better not tell him about pussy having six kittens." "Are you the plumber?" asked Mrs. Neame. "Yes, ma'am. I'm the plumber right enough." "Well," she replied, "I just want to caution you to exercise care when doing your work. All my floors are highly polished and in perfect condition."

"Oh, don't worry about me slipping, lady. I've got nails in me shoes!"

A Chinese author sent a manuscript to a local editor, who returned it with this firm but polite note of refusal:

"We have read the manuscript with infinite delight. By the sacred ashes of our ancestors we swear that we have never before revealed in so thrilling a masterpiece. If we printed it we should henceforth be obliged to take it as a model, as a standard of quality and achievement, and henceforth never print anything inferior to it. As it would be impossible to find its equal in 10,000 years, and we have to go to press with our poor, uninspired paper once a day, we are compelled, though shaken with sorrow and blinded with tears at the necessity, to return thy divine manuscript, and for doing so we ask a thousand pardons."

"So you were in the service," ejaculated the prospective father-in-law of the bashful aspirant to his daughter's hand. "Carry any stars?"

"No, sir," replied the would-be bridegroom, "but I've got a deck of cigars if you'd like to try one."

"Well, Joe," said Wilkins, as he met his friend Robinson on the avenue, "did you get any good hunting up in Maine?" "We sure did," said Robinson. "How did that new dog Brown sent you work?"

"Splendid!" was the reply. "Fact is, if it hadn't been for that dog we wouldn't have had any hunting at all. He ran away at the first shot and we spent four days looking for him."

"Well, I'll tell you," said a citizen of Sandy Mush, Ark., in reply to the inquiry of a neighbor. "I was over to Catta-ampus yesterday, and inside of two hours there were three fights, two runaways, a fire, a lady horse-whipping a gent for something or nuther, and a couple of airplanes sailing over the town. And trying to get into the fights, keep out of the runaways, run to the fire, watch the lady, and keep my eyes fixed on the airplanes, I got knocked over four or five times and tromped on considerable, and I don't reckon my neck will work precisely right till the Lord knows when. How them folks in town manage to keep healthy with all that hooraw going on amongst 'em is more than I can figger out. Bushung, if two hours of that fast living didn't mighty nigh ruin me!"

How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

DO YOU know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocilla, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who has demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to 'expectant mothers.' I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was confined and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

NEED DORMITORY FOR CEDARVILLE COLLEGE AT ONCE

The erection of a dormitory, now included in the immediate expansion program of Cedarville College, has become a problem of such pressing importance that it may be decided to provide, at once a dormitory for the purpose of housing and boarding the students. Already applications for admission this fall are being received. Whether they can be accepted depends largely on the ability of the College to house them. As a result the whole dormitory question is being taken up by the authorities of the College.

In addition to a dormitory, Cedarville College will soon erect a gymnasium and Science Hall. The buildings will be constructed in the order named provided that the $200,000 Expansion Campaign which is now in progress, is brought to a successful termination.

Even at this early date, provision is being made at the College to handle the applications for admission from many young women throughout the country, who, concluding their high school studies this summer, will enter College with the opening of the fall term 1921. Many of the applications already received for admission this fall come from outside of Greene County. In this connection, Rev. Leroy Allen, Dean of the College says: "Whether these young women can be accepted depends in a great measure on the facilities for boarding and housing them at the College. This matter has reached serious proportions during the past few years, and has caused the Faculty of the College to consider the advisability of establishing a dormitory at the earliest possible date. Plenty of ground is available for the erection of a modern building, and it is possible that if sufficient funds are raised in the present campaign, work on the dormitory will commence almost immediately."

PLEAD GUILTY TO TRANSPORTING LIQUOR

Pleading guilty to a charge of transporting liquor in violation of the Crabbie act, Harry Fent, Wilmington, paid a fine of $250 and costs when arraigned before Magistrate J. E. Jones, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Fent was arrested with Frank Hopkins, of Bowersville, by Sheriff Funderburgh and Deputy Day, on North Detroit street as they were leaving the Interurban restaurant. Their Ford machine contained 15 quarts of corn whiskey, authorities said.

Arraigned before Magistrate Jones almost immediately, on affidavits filed against them by Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, Fent entered a plea of guilty, but Hopkins, pleaded not guilty to the charge of possessing and selling liquor. His hearing was set for Thursday morning at nine o'clock.

DECLARE SENSATION WILL BE SPRUNG AT HILLSBORO SOON

Rumors thickly flying about the streets of Hillsboro and especially in and near the Court House, indicate that a sensational story involving prominent Hillsboro business men is developing and that its sensational features are becoming more and more pronounced each day. When interviewed by a Gazette representative this week county officials refused to make any statement for publication but imply that the story would probably be released soon.—Hillsboro Gazette.

ANSWERED LETTERS

"Pettie": I read your recent working schedule for the farm woman, in which you said that it was not the farm-wife's duty to help with out of doors work. I want to give you my schedule, which may be of interest to others: I get up every day at 5:00 A. M., milk 3 cows while my younger sister milks 2, then I separate the milk and help feed a number of calves; I next prepare breakfast and gather fresh flowers for the table. During this time my Mother has fed and watered 300 chickens, built a fire, and started breakfast and done other duties.

"After breakfast I sweep and clean—each day—as many of the nine rooms as necessary, while my mother and little sisters do the dishes and my grandmother makes the beds. All this is completed before the real day's work begins, at 7:30 or 8 o'clock. Mother and I do all of the sewing and washing for our family of seven, besides the housework, and then find time to help a great deal out of doors. We go to the county seat several times a week and attend Sunday School every Sunday, where Mother is a teacher and I am the Secretary.

"I am a high-school graduate, and I prefer farm work to a business career. I believe it is the farm woman's duty to care for the chickens and do most of the work in the kitchen garden if she wants her husband to have good crops." Answer: I believe your letter will interest many. But I do not think your case similar to that of the farm woman whose letter I answered recently (giving the working schedule to which you refer. She had all the housework to do alone—while your family is large and there are many helping hands. I, too, believe that where there are plenty to do the indoor work, a farmer should have help, beside hired help, with his out-door chores.

Constant Reader: "Here is my recipe for doughnuts that never fail and never have a greasy taste. Mix 2 level teaspoons of butter, 1 cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and 1-2 teaspoon of nutmeg together well. Beat 2 eggs well and add these to the dry mixture. Dissolve a scant level teaspoon of soda in 1 cup of sour milk and stir this also into the mixture. Mix 1 rounded teaspoon of baking powder and 3 1-2 cups of unsifted flour add this also to the mixing bowl, and stir well together. Turn out onto a floured board, roll, cut, and fry in hot lard. I have found that doughnuts are much better fried in lard compound than in home-rendered lard, as the lard compound is not so greasy.

"Here is another hint: In making cakes if you wish to measure 1-2 cup of butter, first fill the cup 1-2 full of water then add butter enough to fill the cup; this saves butter because it does not stick to the cup, and also saves the housewife from having to wash a greasy cup. Of course the water is thrown away. I would like to know just how to make Angel and Devils Food Cakes and also good raisin sandwiches and cheese sandwiches."

Answer: Thank you for the doughnut recipe. The cake and sandwich recipes you wish will appear in this column next Saturday—August 6.
